MORE VIOLENCE BY NEW YORK STRIKERS.

Thirty Arrests Result from Riots of Garment Workers.

New York, Jan. 20.—A few thousand girls went to work in the dress and shirtwaist factories today, but in other branches of the garment makers' trades the strike developed more violence than the police have had to contend with on any other day since the trouble began. At many of the factories, daylight when members of the United Garment Workers of America learned that strikers would be sent into the factories as early as 8 o'clock. Last week these employees had slept and eaten at the factories, but Saturday night they were allowed to go to their homes.

The strikers were attacked as they came out of the subway stations and the police say that East Side gangsters played an important part in these battles. Men and women were beaten and trampled and policemen engaged in rough physical fights all over the street. More than thirty arrests were made.

The supreme court was asked this afternoon to grant a sweeping injunction against the employees of manufacturers belonging to the New York Clothing Trades association. The injunction, if granted, would restrain the strikers from touching the interference with employees who remained at work.

Taft Attends Yale Meeting

FORMALLY ACCEPTS THE KENT PROFESSORSHIP.

WILL BEGIN IN APRIL

Intends to Withdraw from Corporation When He Begins His Duties—Recent Gifts Total $70,000.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 20.—At the regular meeting of the Yale corporation today, President Taft formally accepted the Kent professorship of law at Yale college. He also announced his intention of withdrawing from the corporation when he takes up his regular duties of his professorship. President Taft plans to come to New Haven in April, and will deliver his spring course lectures of an optional character. His work in the fall will consist of a series of lectures on the general subject of constitutional law. He will also give some instruction in the Yale law school his exact courses there being not yet determined upon.

The Kent professorship was established in 1881, being named in honor of Chancellor James Kent of the class of 1831, one of the most distinguished graduates of the college. There have been only four incumbents of the chair since its establishment. The first was Professor Charles B. Smith, who held the chair from 1881 to 1885. The second was Professor Charles B. Smith, who held the chair from 1885 to 1889. The third was Professor Charles B. Smith, who held the chair from 1889 to 1893. The fourth was Professor Charles B. Smith, who held the chair from 1893 to 1897.

The situation also disposes, apparently, of the idea that the company can be compelled by a new statute, to give cheap or free transportation.

Amendment of Railroad Charter.

One of the latest rumors is that an amendment of the railroad charter so as to give free transportation to the legislators, may be proposed in the general assembly. Such a plan would have to wait until the next session of the legislature, as the federal constitution against deprivation of property without due process of law.

To Turn Down

INTENTION OF THE NEW HAVEN RAILROAD.

ON MILEAGE QUESTION

Cannot Give Members of General Assembly Transportation for Session by Sum Provided by Constitution.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 20.—That the New York, New Haven and Hartford railroad company will not accept the suggestion of the state controller that transportation of members of the general assembly be given for the session in return for a mileage fixed by the state constitution, is now practically certain.

Would Approve Free Transportation.

The present attitude of the company is known to be quite apart from the constitutional question involved, that there is no reason why the company should be deprived of the receipts from the legislative railroad fares and also the plan would cost the state a large sum of money.

No Compelling Statute.

The situation also disposes, apparently, of the idea that the company can be compelled by a new statute, to give cheap or free transportation.

Amendment of Railroad Charter.

One of the latest rumors is that an amendment of the railroad charter so as to give free transportation to the legislators, may be proposed in the general assembly.
